EZYSTONE join impressive iKBBi sponsor line-up

Press Release Date: July 2010 (National Release)

Joining industry businesses AnyJunk, Blum, Classic Marble and Franke, The iKBBi are proud to unveil exciting new sponsor EZYSTONE Worksurfaces as their latest sponsor.

EZYSTONE specialise in providing high quality kitchen worksurfaces to retailers and installers and are the latest business to support the aims and objectives of the iKBBi.

EZYSTONE spokesman Gordon Gunnion said: “EZYSTONE is a new premium quartz worktop specifically designed for the kitchen installer to fit as part of a normal kitchen installation. We believe EZYSTONE will appeal to iKBBi members by offering a convenient, time and cost saving way of fitting visually stunning stone worksurfaces.

“EZYSTONE enables the kitchen installer to take full control over the worksurface installation with no need to pay for or wait for a stone specialist to be on site. There is no need for templating, 7-14 day turnaround, temporary sinks or worktops, or return visits”.

This new and innovative worksurface to the UK marketplace has already been adopted by retail giant Homebase, complimenting the retailer’s portfolio of classic, contemporary and modern kitchens.

iKBBi director Drew Carter added: “The iKBBi are delighted to be working with such an exciting product as EZYSTONE. This is a high quality innovative product that can provide the perfect solution for many installers and consumers. It has distinct fitting, as well as "living with" benefits and looks to offer the simplest method of onsite installation of any of this new breed of products. It will also appeal to the style conscious consumer as an alternative to granite and will score highly with anyone that doesn't want to go through the templating process and that's where our members come in”.

Gordon added “As a worksurface supplier we feel that it is important to sponsor the institute in its guiding principles of providing support for reputable installers & retailers, whilst also raising installation standards. The iKBBi has continued to establish itself during this recession and we are proud to be sponsoring the institute at this very exciting stage in its development”.
